

10th International Conference of AORTIC: Burkitt Lymphoma: Bridging the Gap between Knowledge and Treatment or Prevention, November 20th, 2015

Chair - Sam M. Mbulaiteye, MBChB, MPhil, MMed., NCI - mbulaits@mail.nih.gov

Session co-chair: Dr. Edus H. Warren, III, MD PhD., Fred Hutch Cancer Research Center - ehwarren@u.washington.edu

Session co-chair: Peter Odada Sumba, PhD, MPH, Kenya Medical Research Institute, odadakasumba@yahoo.com

Time	Talk	Speaker	Institution	Email
November 20th, 2015	Chairs Peter Odada Sumba (KEMRI) and Edus H. Warren, III (FHCRC)
11h00-11h15	Pathogenesis of African Burkitt lymphoma: confronting the enigma	Edus H. Warren, III	Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center	ehwarren@u.washington.edu
11h15-11h30	Is Burkitt lymphoma a Polymicrobial Disease?	Lorenzo Leoncini	University of Sienna	lorenzo.leoncini@dbm.unisi.it
11h30-11h45	Dissecting the role of the B-cell receptor in African Burkitt lymphoma	Katie Lombardo	Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center	klombardo1@gmail.com
1145-12h00	EBV Variants in Burkitt lymphoma	Kishor Bhatia	NCI	bhatiak@mail.nih.gov
12h00-12h15	Small molecules for treatment of EBV-positive Burkitt lymphoma	Leona Ayers	Ohio State University	Leona.Ayers@osumc.edu
12h15-12h30	Malaria infection is protective for Burkitt lymphoma: reformulation of the malaria dogma	Sam M. Mbulaiteye	NCI	mbulaits@mail.nih.gov
12h30-12h45	Population genetics structure of populations at risk of Burkitt lymphoma - insights from the EMBLEM Study	Meredith Yeager	NCI	yeagerm@mail.nih.gov
12h45-13h00	Novel genetic risk factors of BL - providing new directions for Burkitt lymphoma research	Ludmila Prokunina-Olsson	NCI	prokuninal@mail.nih.gov